

Commander and Chief of a blind nation.

Criminal minds that brought other nations to destruction destroyed the religious spirit of their people first. Criminal minds de-criminalized a heinous criminal act in 1973. It remains a criminal act, the deliberate destruction of a unique human being, voiceless in its' own defense. Those who failed to love and defend the person created were given the legal right to exterminate their child and exterminators were zealous in providing that service. The evil and the charade of "first trimester" became the every thing goes of partial birth abortion and to leaving the living child to expire in the trash. Sanctity of human life destroyed, anything sacred became fair game and "Church" failed its flocks. Religion is still anathema to "choice", as it takes criminal minds to task, constantly reminding them of the evil committed at their hands and with their hearts. Falsely, believing that destroying religious dissent, they will be restored to innocence; they angrily lash out at it with a vengeance that displays the corruption at their core. They now have a powerful champion. POTUS Obama is the self-professed commander in chief of the ruthless and deadly war against the sanctity of Unborn Americans' lives and the gay right assault on the sanctity of marriage. Violent spirits, having no tolerance for dissent, are "emboldened" that their leader now occupies the white house to complete the mission, forced submission to their demands. Those who hoped for change will receive it. America, fully pagan, has elected what it deserves through grievous neglect of true religious responsibility. Why would God help us when we refuse to help ourselves? Will God find any faith on Earth when He returns when there are obviously too few witnesses for what is sacred?

Destroying the sanctity of American lives in the womb destroyed the sanctity of all American life, born and unborn!

So many, so blind, so apathetic they can not see the connection.

The violent and not a few, do not want the connection seen.

Too Few Witnesses for the truth, love and life.
