

Flames of disintegration.

1973 was more ominous than many realize. Liberals had prepared the way in which America would self destruct. America accepted a judgment in regards to innocent human life, which we ourselves had created. Willful and violent termination of our unborn, formally a criminal act, became lawful. Thus laws which prevented the liberals from their goals could be challenged and overturned. Abortion on demand became so common that four times as many bone-fide American progeny have been denied their rightful entrance (killed) into America than those entering it illegally. Not a problem for the liberals amongst us. Allowing this perversion of fundamental rights to those who are owed them, has calloused the nation into the acceptance of anything. You could say abortion on demand was the ignition point of the flames of disintegration. Once the sacredness of human life, the glue which held wholesome nations together, was nullified, then that nation would descend toward complete disintegration without fail. Nothing is truer than history repeating itself, over and over, except for the deaf, dumb and blind who think they are leading us.

1973-2006 Has America become more wholesome?

Liberals fan the flames with great glee, adding more and more fuel to the fire.

Conservatives, even if a fire apparatus was found, have lost the knowledge of its use.

The liberal ignition:

"Legal, liberal and lethal, violence against Unborn Americans."

Democrats are abortion enablers, energetically supporting this doctrine.

Republicans are abortion enablers, passively supporting this doctrine.

Americas religious are conflicted, ineffective and thus, are supporting this doctrine.

A generation of Americans with 25% of its compatriots missing appears indifferent to their loss.

The true meaning of eternal love has been lost, leaving only one logical conclusion.

ONLY DIVINE INTERVENTION WILL END
OUR COLLECTIVE IMMORAL INSANITY.
