

The Fox and the Shepherd

Termination of Unborn Americans is a lucrative business. Why else would the American Medical Association approve of such an immoral practice? A century ago, it would not. Today it does. Carefully consider this. Before those who are engaged in this deadly termination of Unborn Americans are finished, they and their supporters will come after the rest of us. Their industry requires victims. They must completely silence us first, as the Unborn are silent. Then they will establish a rationale for our termination, as they have for the Unborn. Then they will get government to fund it. Whenever criminal minds became the dominant power in any society the moral who opposed them were destroyed; as you might recall Herod and John the Baptist. No one else is recorded speaking against Herod except Jesus. (This Fox was the enemy of this Shepherd.) Ever wonder what political party affiliation Herod would ascribe to today. I have a very good idea. So, the ascendance of the immoral in America and the legal silencing of any moral opposition continues. The foxes are giddy with each new success. Where else can it lead, but to total anarchy by the immoral in America? Think not? History records many who thought not, until it became too late and then they perished.
