

Catholic Democrats?

http://www.catholicdemocrats.net/Mass_homepage.php

Their banner seems like so much American apple pie, so filled with good, and with the lofty Bible quote from the Gospel of Mathew, why doesn't everyone just follow the Democrats everywhere! Surely this is their most cherished ultimate goal. Let's let others decide for themselves what to do and just focus on their justification to be called "Catholics" for the moment. Catholic and Democrat would seem like a contradiction in terms. Are these two terms truly reconcilable or not? Are they truly "peacemakers" as they infer with their biblical reference? Maybe the web site itself will give us a clue. The web site's principal objective seems to be an attack against Massachusetts Catholics who have disagreed with their claims to be both "Catholic" and Democrat. The principal issues concern two core values, abortion and civil unions, embraced by these "Catholic Democrats" and not by their Catholic dissenters. (<http://carolmckinley.blogspot.com/>) Some simple facts might bring any discerning adult to a simple conclusion about who is the real Catholic.

These cherished core values did not always exist, as they are diametrically opposed to humanity's very survival. The hedonistic creation and destruction of innocent Unborn Americans, unique human beings, is Un-American and a crime against humanity. Democrats are not troubled with this and want it to stand. Any one who sees this as a good is dangerous. Please explain, "no child left behind" to those Unborn Americans who were left in the "medical" waste of America's "health care" industries. To justify it with arguments based upon death penalties and military establishments is infantile and misses reality in total. Take this hedonism to the ultimate; killing all our progeny, and America would surely cease to exist. The hedonistic unions of those incapable of creating new American life is also Un-American and a crime against humanity, and would have exactly the same effect. Democrats are also not troubled with this. To justify this with arguments based upon diversity is also infantile and misses reality in total. Take this hedonism to the ultimate; eliminate heterosexual unions, and America would again, surely cease to exist. If a policy taken to the extreme would end all American life it must be evil and not good.

I confess I was a Democrat at a time in the past. No such affiliation could be maintained once the Democrats decided political expediency had to include supporting abortionists and their war against Unborn Americans. It was simple. In good conscience I had to reconcile being a Catholic, being a Democrat, being an American and being human. Three out of four was not good enough, forcing me to be "un-enrolled" and a consistent voter in opposition to all they stand for. Would the Democrats protect me and mine from evil in the world when they so warmly embraced real evil here at home in America? I thought not and they continue to convince me my decision was a good one. When hands are covered with innocent human blood will those hands accomplish anything good? Mother Theresa, a real Catholic lady, rightly identified abortion as the greatest evil. Pope John Paul II, a real Catholic gentleman, also saw abortion as evil. Denial of Unborn Americans' fundamental human right, to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, is evil. Democrats continue to see evil as good and to support them would make me a co-conspirator in evil. Once they embraced abortion they found no difficulty embracing more evil.

One would be severely challenged today to find evidence that these Democratic "peacemaker?" core values are bringing peace to America. At best today, the hedonistic idealists have only crippled America. The real danger of any political party with these core values coming to full power is the certainty of total silencing of any dissenter of their policies. These "Catholic" Democrats did not look far enough in the Gospel of Mathew when they chose to cite the bible. The leader of Roman Catholics, Jesus Christ, gave Peter the keys to the kingdom. "I will give you the keys of the Kingdom of heaven; what you prohibit on earth will be prohibited in heaven, and what you permit on earth will be permitted in heaven." (Mt.16: 19) No permission has been given to Roman Catholics for abortion or civil unions, two core values of the Democratic Party. To say otherwise is to deny reality. So how can they be "Catholic" and Democrat at the same time? Makes no sense to me. Perhaps official Roman Catholic authorities can explain this web site to us all?

Any non-Catholics may wonder what is going on here. It is simple. Jesus, two thousand years ago, warned about those who would come with false messages and try to lead many astray. Again from Mathew, missed by these Democrats; "Be on your guard against false prophets; they come to you looking like sheep on the outside, but inside they are really like wild wolves. You will know them by what they do." (Mt 7:15) Regardless of what you personally believe, your humanness alone will hopefully, lead you to reject these two core "Democrat" values as inconsistent with humanity and the God who made us all.

PS: I also in good conscience could no longer purchase the Boston Globe. I have no answer for this question. Why is this publication available for sale on many church properties after weekend masses? Maybe some one else can. 4 Jan 2006
