

Been sleeping well ?

Think we are not in deep distress?

The country went to sleep thirty three years ago.

Wake up and take a look.

Religious ideals and traditions are openly mocked and ridiculed.

English is a fractured language even by those who were born here.

Police presence is now normal in public schools, a comprehensive education is not.

Educational prowess is in continual decline, graduations signal un-prepared release into society.

The powerful send their children to private schools, assuring continued dynasties.

The war on drugs could be reasonably considered a national disaster.

Perversion has permeated the fabric of society with a vengeful stranglehold.

We have been invaded by a bordering country intent on reclaiming "their" land.

Energy consumption is insatiable, unsustainable and unresolved by our leaders.

"V"-chips are touted as the solution to violent "entertainment".

Elected officials vow to protect us from Jihad fanatics but cannot protect our identities from theft.

The people have taxation without representation as elected officials are consumed with power-posturing.

Both "Church and State" are locked in the fatal quicksand of liberals versus conservatives.

The "common good" fails to be served and this fatal division erodes any chance of recovery.

The root cause of our problems began with judicial anarchy in 1973.

Love, the protector of life, died and death for profit emerged.

Forty eight (48) million American souls legally (ex)-terminated.

Is the root cause being addressed thirty three years later???

With this?

a Flag Amendment to protect a Symbol.

And this?

a Marriage Amendment to protect a Definition.

And not this!

a Human Life Amendment to protect Unborn American Souls.

Still asleep ?

The judicial anarchists are not.
