

“A radical threat to human life”

Headline in the latest flyer published for the United States Catholic Conference of Bishops. F.O.C.A. was the only definitive item he was unequivocally clear about in his campaign and which the newly elected POTUS Obama promised to sign when it reaches his desk. This is certainly not above his pay grade and he has received his thirty pieces of silver, the highest elected office of the land. What are we to make of the United States Catholic Conference of Bishops effort to defeat this Freedom of Choice Act?

The radical threat to human life became a reality 36 years ago and is known as Roe v. Wade. Caesar pronounced that life in the womb would no longer be sacred, protected by law and could be exterminated. (PC term: aborted, terminated, ended, etc.) Pagan barbarism was granted amnesty under the guise of a freedom. (Undefined in the Constitution).

The United States Catholic Conference of Bishops has done absolutely nothing to reverse Roe v. Wade. The United States Catholic Conference of Bishops has done nothing in the intervening years to prevent Caesar from making a mockery of their leadership. POTUS Obama enjoyed the support of the very flock they pretend to shepherd. Catholic politicians initiate and support pro-choice legislation and the faithful (?) in the pews continue to elect and re-elect them. Catholic politicians apparently lead the faithful in the pews, not their shepherds.

Why should anyone listen to them now? Politicians certainly do not fear them. POTUS Obama certainly does not fear them. Will the faithful (?) in the pews assuage their conscience (temporarily), sign a post card and then vote again in the next election for the recipients of the same cards? So, what are we to think? Thirty six years too late perhaps to have any real effect?

They have really rendered to Caesar what should have never been,
that which belonged to God.
United States Catholic Conference of Bishops
Shepherds who have lost their way!

Will F.O.C.A. Fail ?
Or the bishops ?
